

North Carolina Department of Revenue

Beverly Eaves Perdue	David W. Hoyle
Governor March 8, 2011	Secretary
Water 6, 2011
	FEIN:
Dear
The Department is in receipt of your request for a private letter ruling reg the credit for qualifying expenses of a production company to transaction. The request was received by the Department via email on Facts
activities in the State of North Carolina. First, will either form a new company or partner or contract with an existing North Carolina-based for to provide production, post-production, editing, visual generated imagery and related services ("Services") to the film industry. or manage a wide array of equipment and services related to its core bus Services. Second, will periodically produce motion pictures in the Each motion picture will be produced by a new, special-purpose, for-prof particular motion picture (each a will provide production funding to each producing the motion picture, including the Services of the Services will account for most, if not all, of the costs of producing the The funds, once paid to the balance may be returned to the producing the motion picture. In whole or in part, as may do by each will be made pursuant to an invoice issued to the services under the contract will be serviced under the	effects, computer will own siness of providing the State of North Carolina. it entity related to the for the Services of o pay for the costs of In some cases, the cost of particular motion picture. to pay its hard costs and irect. Each payment to sued by e substantially less than will the amount billed by Question Presented
Does the payment made by to for Services un constitute a "qualifying expense" for which a credit may be claimed under expenses of a production company?	nder this factual scenarior the credit for qualifying

Answer

No.	The payments from	to	would not be a qualifying expense to the
exte	nt that the payments	exceeded the	e direct cost of providing the Services.

Discussion

As a general principle, the Secretary has the authority under various statutes to determine the amount of net income earned by a taxpayer in this State. This authority exists under both the corporate income tax statutes (G.S. 105-130.4, 105-130.6, 105-130.14, and 105-130.16) and the individual income tax statutes (G.S. 105-152). G.S. 105-130.16 and G.S. 105-152, in particular, address the Secretary's authority to correct distortions to income caused by the way a taxpayer conducts a trade or business.

The factual scenario described above would create distortions to the taxpayer's income. Under this scenario, would create and fund that would contract for Services with would then remit some or all of the proceeds of that contract to
. There is no indication that this arrangement has any economic purpose other than to inflate the amount of credit for which a production may be eligible. Clearly, this produces a distortion.
Under either G.S. 105-130.16 or G.S. 105-152, the Secretary may make alternative computations to correct this distortion. In this case, due to the circular nature of this transaction (in which funding to pay to pay , which then remits some or all of the proceeds to ), the Department would find that the amounts "paid" by to had no been "spent". It is difficult to see how an amount that is repaid to the original funder has been "spent" in any economic sense. Accordingly, the Department would not allow a credit for the amount of the contract between and and to the extent that the amount paid exceeded the direct cost of in providing the Services.

This ruling is based solely on the facts submitted to the Department of Revenue for consideration of the transactions described. If the facts and circumstances given are not accurate, or if they change, then the taxpayer requesting this ruling may not rely on it. If a taxpayer relies on this ruling and the Department discovers, upon examination, that the fact situation of the taxpayer is different in any material aspect from the facts and circumstances given in this ruling, then the ruling will not afford the taxpayer any protection. It should be noted that this document is not to be cited as precedent and that a change in statute, a regulation, or case law could void this ruling.

Sincerely,

